Melissa and Stephanie recently attended Redken's Exchange School in New York City. The Class agenda of "Color and Know Why" gave them an expanded awareness of every concern that may arise in individual haircolor situations. They also acquired new color formulations and highlighting techniques.

Jessica and Stephanie attended Redken's Exchange School with an Agenda that focused on "Cut and Know Why". They were enhanced with a total understanding of hair design with a new twist on creativity. They explored how the elements of shape, head form, and movement can allow them to recreate or duplicate any design. Stephanie, Jessica and Melissa have a passion for this industry. Visit these talented professionals and experience an outstanding new look designed just for you.
